

Toolkit Focus: Suspense + Dilemma

In reading, it is often those books that leave us on a cliff hanger or wondering that make us want to read on.

Year R,	Year 1, 2	Year 3, 4	Year 5, 6
- Describe the problem with scary adjectives. e.g. But in the forest lived a huge, hairy troll. - Explain why something is a problem/scary. e.g. The wolf was very hungry. - Use adverbial openers to signal that there is a problem, e.g. Unfortunately... Suddenly...	Building on Year R work: - Put the main character in a dark setting e.g. the lights flickered on and off, the clouds surrounded the last shards of moonlight. - Use a sound effect to hear the problem e.g. there was a growl, footsteps were coming. - Put the character/characters in a lonely place. e.g. The door slammed behind her, she was trapped. She wandered too far from the group... - Use adverbial openers which signal that there is a problem. e.g. Unluckily..., Suddenly..., Unfortunately... - Emphasise the problem using repetition. e.g. a crazy troll, a lazy troll	Building on Year 1/2 work: - Sound effects to create atmosphere e.g. The window creaked open, a whisper crept through the wind, there was a distant rustle of leaves, a branch snapped nearby. - Use 'empty words' to introduce a problem e.g. Glowing eyes peered at him. Something was behind him. It was waiting. - Change the setting (place, time of day, weather) to change the mood. e.g. moving from a the forest into a dark and gloomy cave. A crackle of thunder roared overhead. - Use a greater range of dramatic adverbial openers which signal that there is a problem. e.g. Without warning..., All of a sudden..., Just then..., Out of nowhere, - Use the character's reaction to the situation. e.g. his palms started to sweat, his heart raced. - Use short sentences for impact and to quicken pace. e.g. They ran! He froze. Silence. - Explain the implications of the problem by adding extra detail (double drama/dilemma) e.g. Charlie was stuck in the magic box and there was no-one to help him escape. He flew too far, he was lost.	Building on Year 3/4 work: - Use a more sophisticated range of adverbial openers which signal that there is a problem. e.g. In a flash..., Out of the blue..., With a scream..., Silently..., Nobody saw... - Use a cliff hanger to hook the reader. e.g. Cliff hanger steps... 1. Create a sense of safety/relief, 2. Show a slight concern/worry, 3. Create a false sense of security, 4. Create the cliff hanger/danger in the last line. - Use a small detail to create a glimpse of the threat. e.g. Something darted behind a tree. - Use carefully selected verbs to build tension. e.g. edged, grabbed, scabbled, whispered, brushed against, hissed. - Use a rhetorical question e.g. Had it seen her? Would the light ever return? - Use sibilance or alliteration to add effect. e.g. Using the 's' sound to create a hissing feeling/sound. 'k' 'p' 't' sounds to create action or loudness. - Use a more sophisticated range of character reactions to the problem. e.g. His pupils dilated, her lips went dry, the room started to spin, making Kat dizzy. - Vary sentence lengths and types for effect e.g. longer sentences to add detail, short sentences to quicken the pace. - Create a false sense of security and then introduce an element of unease.

			e.g. Hannah leant on the trunk of the tree and took in her surroundings. What was that in the distance? - Use subtle hints to how the problem could be solved. e.g. He would not be seeing his friends again unless he could think of a way to escape.
